About Us

Our Story

Our inspiration is original European faucet designs that originated in Paris, France in the late 1980s and early 1990s. We have created a legacy of artisan work from yesteryear. With American manufacturing and ingenuity we magnified and realized the vision of the original creator.

Our faucetry products are the embodiment of American craftsmanship preserving the detail and tradition of French designs. They are made of the highest quality brass components in the world and built to last a lifetime.

Our Mission

We are not a cluttered "something for everybody" kind of line. We will only add series to Reserve Collection that stand out from the crowd. As you will see as you turn these pages, you don't have to plow through a lot of other stuff to see what that is.

Our Plan

Our collective resume dates to the early 80's when we began to engage with some of the first European decorative lines to emerge. But our understanding of product design isn't limited to style. We are faucet engineers who know the best components to put under the hood to assure our customers the best performance. What inspires us will motivate us to create.

American Made Craftsmanship

The Reserve Collection is an American coalition of only the finest bespoke components we could design, engineer, and manufacture. All have been combined to make exceptional faucetry for the most discriminating buyer.

Design Selection

Our beautifully artisan handcrafted faucetry products provide essential function and aesthetic enhancement to your home. Our products are made from components from France, Germany, and the United States. We manufacture all the necessary ingredients for the perfect product and have complimentary enhancement service available. Customized to meet specific needs as a true American manufacturer we can deliver these options to you.
